

Biography:

Dr Annette McGrath is the Bioinformatics Core Leader at CSIRO where her team works on enhancing bioinformatics capability and developing and supporting enterprise bioinformatics infrastructure for CSIRO's bioinformaticians and bioscientists. They also collaborate with researchers on a number of genomics research projects. She has qualifications in biochemistry, molecular biology and statistics, and has worked in bioinformatics roles in industry, the not-for-profit sector and now CSIRO since 1998.